Livestock Code of Ethics

The Delaware Livestock Exposition subscribes to the following code of ethics with regard to all livestock shown at the exposition.

International Association of Fairs and Expositions National Code of Show Ring Ethics

Exhibitors of animals at livestock shows shall at all times conduct themselves with honesty and good sportsmanship. Their conduct in this competitive environment shall always reflect the highest standards of honor and dignity to promote the advancement of agricultural education. This code applies to all livestock offered in any event at a livestock show. In addition to the "IAFE National Code of Show Ring Ethics," fairs and livestock shows may have rules and regulations, which they impose, on the local, county, state, provincial and national levels.

All youth leaders working with junior exhibitors are under an affirmative responsibility to do more than avoid improper conduct or questionable acts. Their moral values must be so certain and positive that those younger and more pliable will be influenced by their fine example. Owners, exhibitors, fitters, trainers and absolutely responsible persons who violate the code of ethics will forfeit premiums, awards and shall be prohibited from future exhibition in accordance with the rules adopted by the respective fairs and livestock shows. Exhibitors who violate this code of ethics demean the integrity of all livestock exhibitors and should be prohibited from competition at all livestock shows in the United State and Canada.

The following is a list of guidelines for all exhibitors and all livestock in competitive events:

1. All exhibitors must present, upon request of fair and livestock show officials, proof of ownership, length of ownership and age of all animals entered. Misrepresentation of ownership, age, or any facts relating thereto is prohibited.
2. Owners, exhibitors, fitters, trainers, or absolutely responsible persons shall provide animal health certificates from licensed veterinarians upon request by livestock show officials.
3. Junior exhibitors are expected to care for and groom their animals while at the livestock show.
4. Animals shall be presented to show events where they will enter the food chain free of violative drug residues. The act of entering an animal in a livestock show is the giving of consent by the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer and /or absolutely responsible person for show management to obtain any specimens of urine, saliva, blood, or other substances from the animal to be used in testing. Animals not entered in an event which culminates with the animal entering the food chain shall not be administered drugs other than in accordance with applicable federal, state and provincial statutes, regulations and rules. Livestock shall not be exhibited if the drugs administered in accordance with federal, state and provincial statutes, regulations and rules affect the animal's performance or appearance at the event. If the laboratory report on the analysis of saliva, urine, blood, or other sample taken from livestock indicates the presence of forbidden drugs or medication, this shall be prima facie evidence such substance has been administered to the animal either internally or externally. It is presumed that the sample of urine, saliva, blood, or other substance tested by the laboratory to which it is sent is the one taken from the animal in question, its integrity is preserved and all procedures of

- said collection and preservation, transfer to the laboratory and analysis of the sample are correct and accurate and the report received from the laboratory pertains to the sample taken from the animal in question and correctly reflects the condition of the animal at the time the sample was taken, with the burden on the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer, or absolutely responsible person to prove otherwise. At any time after an animal arrives on the livestock show premises, all treatments involving the use of drugs and/or medications for the sole purpose of protecting the health of the animal shall be administered by a licensed veterinarian.
5. Any surgical procedure or injection of any foreign substance or drug or the external application of any substance (irritant, counterirritant, or similar substance) which could affect the animals' performance or alter its natural contour, confirmation, or appearance, except external applications of substances to the hoofs or horns or animals which affect appearance only and except for surgical procedures performed by a duly licensed veterinarian for the sole purpose of protecting the health of the animal, is prohibited.
 6. The use of showing and/or handling practices or devices such as striking animals to cause swelling, using electrical contrivance, or other similar practices are not acceptable and are prohibited.
 7. Direct criticism or interference with the judge, fair or livestock show management, or other exhibitors, breed representatives, or show officials before during, or after the competitive event is prohibited. In the furtherance of their official duty, all judges and livestock show management, or other show officials shall be treated with courtesy, cooperation and respect and no person shall direct abusive or threatening conduct toward them.
 8. No owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer, or absolutely responsible person shall conspire with another person or persons to intentionally violate the code of ethics or knowingly contribute or cooperate with another person or persons either by affirmative action or inaction to violate this code of ethics. Violation of this rule shall subject such individual to disciplinary action.
 9. The application of this code of ethics provides for absolute responsibility for an animal's condition by an owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer, or participant whether or not he or she was actually instrumental in or had actual knowledge of the treatment of the animal in contravention of this code of ethics.
 10. The act of entering an animal is the giving of consent by the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer, or absolutely responsible person to have disciplinary action taken by the livestock show for violation of this Code of Show Ring Ethics and any other rules of competition of the fair or livestock show without recourse against the livestock show. The act of entering an animal is the giving of consent that any proceedings or disciplinary action taken by the fair or livestock show may be published with the name or the violator or violators in any publication of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, including Fairs and Expositions and any special notices to members.
 11. The act of entering an animal in a livestock show is the giving of verification by the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer, or absolutely responsible person that he or she has read the IAFE National Code of Show Ring Ethics and understands the consequences of and penalties provided for actions prohibited by the code. It is further a consent that any action which contravenes these rules and is also in violation of federal, state, or provincial statutes, regulations, or rules may be released to appropriate law enforcement authorities with jurisdiction over such infractions.

General Rules and Regulations

Read department pages for rules applicable to specific livestock species.

Age: Junior Exhibitors will be for those exhibitors who are 21 years old and under as of January 1 of the current year.

Entry fee: Boer goats, sheep, and swine are $15.00 per head. Dairy and beef cattle entry fee is $25.00 per head. Entry fees after the postmark date or dropped off in person after the deadline are doubled. Goats, sheep and swine will be $30.00 per head and dairy and beef cattle $50.00 per head.

Entry Deadline: Entries due by August 22, 2022 after that a late fee will be applied. Junior exhibitors must show their own animals in the show unless they are exhibiting 2 animals in a class or two species at the same time, then another junior exhibitor will be permitted to show the animal. Without a minimum age limit, junior exhibitors must be physically capable of showing their own animal. Exhibitors too young to control their animals will be dismissed from the ring. In order to participate in showmanship, the exhibitor must show their own animal and that showmanship animal must be shown in an individual class. Intact males may not be used for showmanship.

Attire: Junior exhibitors will wear clean, neat, appropriate show attire while showing. Neat, clean jeans or slacks are recommended along with a clean shirt with some type of sleeve. Exhibitors are prohibited from wearing shirts with inappropriate messages and/or logos.

New Breed Divisions: Sheep & Goats: Any breed that has 3 exhibitors and 10 head entered in the show will have its own breed division for the current year. After check in, any breed that had its own division the previous year, but does not meet the criteria for the current year will be considered on probation, and will be allowed to maintain its breed division for the current year.

Beef & Swine: Any breed that has 3 exhibitors and 6 head entered in the show will have its own breed division for the current year. After check in, any breed that had its own division the previous year, but does not meet the criteria for the current year will be considered on probation, and will be allowed to maintain its breed division for the current year. The following year, the probation breed must meet the minimum requirement. If it does not meet the requirements, the breed division will be dissolved and they will be shown in the AOB division.

Arrival and Release Times: Barns will open beginning Friday, September 9th starting at 8:00 a.m. and animals must be in place by 8 a.m., Saturday, September 10th. Pen space is assigned and may not be changed unless approved by the show committee. Goats are permitted to leave at the conclusion of the Goat show until 6:00 a.m Sunday. Swine and Dairy are permitted to leave at the conclusion of the Dairy shows on Saturday until 6:00 a.m. Sunday. Animals may not leave the grounds unless during the designated times or premiums will be forfeited. ALL ANIMALS MUST BE IN THE BARN BY THE POSTED TIME.

Ownership: Animals must have been owned and cared for by exhibitor 30 days prior to the show, with the exemption to feeder calves. The name of the exhibitor must appear, as the owner, on the registration paper. All animals positively must be in show condition or will not be accepted.

Registration Papers: All registered animals must have their original registration papers checked prior showing. Animals must exhibit appropriate identification.

Care will be taken to protect the animals from injury, but the Delaware Livestock Exposition and/or the Delaware State Fair will not in any way hold themselves responsible for accidents, loss and damage by water, fire, theft or otherwise, whatever may be the cause or extent of the damage sustained. All animals are entered at the owner's risk. The Delaware Livestock Exposition will not be liable for damage to any animals, persons, or personal property. Youth exhibitors are to be accompanied by a responsible adult.

If in the opinion of the judge, an entry does not merit a premium, then no premium shall be paid. Further he/she is empowered to limit the top award in any class to a second, third, or lower premium if in his opinion the quality of the class so merits. All decisions by the judge are final. The Delaware Livestock Exposition Committee shall have the right to disqualify any exhibitor for infringement of the rules. All decisions made by the Delaware Livestock Exposition Committee are final regarding interpretation of the rules.

Entries: Exhibitors are limited to two entries per class with the exception of group classes where exhibitors are limited to one entry per class. Substitutions are permitted within the same class provided the animal meets the same requirements. Substitutions must be made no later than check-in. Entry forms may be reproduced.

Beef Exhibitors: Mulch will be available on a first come first serve basis. Limited tie-outs will be available on first come first serve basis. You may tie out to trailers; however, you must clean up tie-out area.

Health Requirements: Please read carefully all the health requirements found on the next page, as they apply to all livestock. If there are any questions regarding health requirements, contact the State Veterinarian's Office at (302) 698-4500.

The Delaware Livestock Exposition Committee will observe the handling of all animals in and out of the show ring and will have the authority to disqualify any exhibitor for unethical practices. No animal may be muzzled at any time during the exposition.

Delaware Bred and Owned selection process for ALL species:

Each Delaware exhibitor is invited to bring their choice of entry to the show ring to compete for Delaware Bred and Owned. Please have your registration paper ready for inspection. The exhibitor's name must be listed as breeder and owner. "Family Farm Name" alone is not acceptable, the exhibitors name must appear as a breeder. If the Supreme Champion is also Delaware Bred and Owned, they will automatically be named the Delaware Bred and Owned Champion, and no class selection will take place.

Camping Accommodations: Camper hook-ups will be available. Please go to the link below to register your camping spot
